

THE CONDITIONS FOR SALE OR ADOPTION ARE THE FOLLOWING:

- Installations
 - The boarding facilities must be well ventilated and include large stalls allowing for communication between horses;
 - Cavalía reserves the right to visit the boarding facilities before signing the adoption or sales contract, as well as at any other time in the future, within reason.
- Exterior pasture
 - During the warm season, the horse must have access to a shelter for his protection if he is left outdoors all day and night;
 - During the cold season, the horse must be able to sleep indoors;
 - Every day, when the horse is brought out to pasture, he must be accompanied by at least one other horse.
- Horse Care
 - A regular appointment with a farrier every 6 weeks;
 - Dental care must be provided at least once a year;
 - Deworming and/or coproscopy should be completed on a regular basis;
 - Veterinary care adapted to the horse's state of health when required.
- Cavalía's Consent
 - The horse cannot be put up for adoption or sold to a third party without Cavalía's prior consent;
 - A stallion cannot be used for reproduction;
 - The adopting party must agree not to make reference to Cavalía or to its trademarks Cavalía and Odyseo in any relation to the adopted horse for commercial purposes, for publicity, for media coverage or other reasons.
 - The adoption is for personal purpose only. In no way can the horse be implicated in a show or equestrian demonstration.

Furthermore, there is a definitive advantage for a horse to maintain a particular social and emotional connection with a human. This relationship can provide an important foundation for growth and well-being in the horse's life. In order to ensure that the horse being considered for adoption or sale can draw the benefits from such a relationship with his human counterpart, we wish to ensure there is a great degree of affinity between the adopted or purchased horse and his new two legged companion.
